Predatory publishing

Dear Dr. Stephen McKeever,

Journal of Genetic and Hereditary Case Studies analyses the submitted articles on the novel research work from the researchers. These manuscripts will serve as useful resources for future work in the field of Genetic Case Studies.

In appreciation to your previous work entitled "Creating a journal club competition improves paediatric nurses' participation and engagement", we would like to invite you to publish your upcoming eminent research works towards the journal.

You may submit your article/s at the below URL.

<http://scimedjnlglors.biz/submit-manuscript.php?journal=59>

The journal strictly rejects the paper if it contains plagiarized, copied, or any unprofessional content. It strictly follows the publication ethics in publishing the articles online.

Thank you for your consideration, and I look forward to work with you soon.

Sincerely,
Antony Williams

SOCIETY JOURNAL?

Dear Editor

I am pleased to submit an original research article entitled [REDACTED] [REDACTED] for consideration for publication in the Journal of Child Health Care.

In this manuscript, we show that it is important to systematically evaluate the quality of nursing care in pediatric clinics by obtaining the views of both the child and their parents to increase the care satisfaction of children and their quality of life. We believe that this manuscript is appropriate for publication in the International Journal for Quality in Health Care.
