

SPENS

the voice of children and young people's nursing

On National Children's Nurses Day, the Strategic Paediatric Educationalists & Nursing Leaders Scotland (SPENS) Group, - Scotland's senior children's nursing group - is proud to celebrate the vital contribution of children's nurses across Scotland. Paediatric nurses hold unique and diverse specialist roles in Scotland- supporting infants, children and young people, and their families, in hospitals, family homes, hospices and schools, and across every part of the health and care journey.

We are delighted that this day provides an opportunity to amplify and celebrate the voice of children's nursing, and to recognise the leadership, innovation and advocacy that children's nurses bring to improving outcomes and experiences for children and families. Today, we extend our heartfelt thanks to all children's nurses in Scotland for the difference they make every day.
